Re: Reference – Marty Kraft, Owner Expedite Your Plans

The purpose of this communication is to provide a character reference for Mr. Marty Kraft, owner of Expedite Your Plans.

I first met Marty when he was relocating his residence and business to the north-west side of town about two years ago. I had a residence that would fit his needs both personally and professionally. From this transaction, we developed a personal friendship.

During the past two years I have been building two custom homes in Nevada and Maryland, accordingly, I have asked Marty countless questions on the process and progress of my projects and Marty has been a wealth of suggestions and resources for me.

Marty is a loyal, honest, considerate, and supportive individual who has the ability to see and understand ideas from another person's perspective. He is a great communicator and knows his business.

All in all, I would have to say that Marty Kraft is a fine, well-balanced person with an abundance of positive qualities.

Sincerely,
